

PAEDOPHILIA: DON DI NOTO SIGNS AGREEMENT WITH POLICE

(AGI) - Vatican City, 5 Nov - "This is an historic day for Meter, the recognition of a society created in Sicily and known throughout the world, after decades of disagreement over paedophilia and its forms of criminality. This convention is dedicated to the children we have helped over the years and who have been welcomed and kept safe with love" said Father Fortunato Di Noto, founder and president of Meter, welcoming the convention signed in Rome by the society and the National Centre for the fight against child pornography on the internet, the Interior Ministry body at the Postal and Communications Police service. Father DiNoto and Prefect Luciano Rosini, head of the Centre, signed the agreement. The document states that "in the field of mutual cooperation in place for some time now, Meter makes available professionalism aimed at helping in the fight against internet paedophilia "with regard to the specific institutional authorities, through analysis of web services used by minors with the aim of identifying the risks they might run of enticement". Meter mentioned the freephone number "let's stop abuse" 800 455270 and welcomed its inclusion among the useful numbers in the White Pages for "its function as emergency service and public utility".
